

Sacred Pilgrimage to Heal Earth's Wounds

From Jack Pile Mine Scar to Sacred Mt. Taylor

Sat., March 17, 2007
10-3

Sacred pilgrimage day led by Srs. Rose Marie Cecchini and Joan Brown with Larry Lente from Laguna as guide. We will drive and walk to the former open pit Jake Pile Mine and see and pray with the scar and then to the proposed uranium mining site on sacred Mt. Taylor. The schedule includes learning from our guide, sacred rituals of healing and time to be present and listen to earth's wisdom at the sites. Pilgrimages always hold the unexpected, so come with an open heart.

(Take Dancing Eagle Casino Exit on I-40 near Laguna, meet in parking lot of Gas station/store on Southside of I-40, we will carpool from there.)

Bring: Water for drinking, appropriate clothing, a sack lunch for after the pilgrimage (we will not eat during the pilgrimage), water from home or sacred place for ritual.

Contacts: Rose Marie Cecchini,mm, Gallup---726-9197 x103
Joan Brown,osf, Albuquerque---266-6966, info@earthspirituality.org

Sponsored by the Partnership for Earth Spirituality